

I am interested in how we structure our own reality. The objects that we surround ourselves with, the relationships that we commit to and the spaces that we create for ourselves help shape our existence. I am also interested in how we communicate with ourselves. How we become aware of our internal desires and fears through our own actions. My images are all staged. I have created scenes that are of a very controlled chaos that exist in the tension of reality versus fantasy.